WHY TEACH CURSIVE TO YOUR CHILDEN ?

Contrary to common beliefs, it is very easy to teach cursive handwriting. It only requires 3 movements: under curve, over curve and up and down. Here are just a few of the benifits !

1. Cursive flowing letters are easier for young children to form as fine motor skills develop. Writing in print with all of the starts, stops, and hard lines tends to be difficult for young children. Writing in a smooth, flowing, curving, connecting pattern is much easier for little hands still developing fine motor control.

2. Cursive writing is artistic. Most children love to draw and begin to do so quite naturally. Cursive writing is very artistic and quite like drawing in many ways. Cursive writing flows from this natural drawing ability.

3. Cursive letters are distinct. Because cursive writing flows from the beginning of the word through to the end, cursive letters tend to be more distinct. And since those letters all flow into one another it strengthens muscles memory on how words are spelled. This actually has been shown to help children learn to read easier and faster.

Always remember to encourage your children to
